

Apple iPhone and iPad Spyware Issue

Apple has released a software patch to block a so-called 'Zero-click' spyware that could infect both iPhones and iPads.

It is recommended that you update your iPhone and iPad software as soon as possible to help protect your devices against this issue.

The software patch is called iOS 14.8 and iPadOS 14.8 and will be available to all iPhone and iPad users. The download is 350mb and can only be done via a Wi-Fi network.

Users can update their software by:

1. Choosing Settings from the home screen
2. Select General.
3. Select Software Update.
4. Select the latest software update available.
5. Select Install.
